Voice

Who's your voice?

The College of Paramedics is the only professional body dedicated to Paramedics in the UK. We are as passionate as our members about driving forward the profession. The future for ambulance clinicians is bright, but we will not realise our full potential unless every Paramedic has a voice.

As your professional body its elected members will work to grasp every opportunity for the profession as they arise. Every day they work at local, regional and national level to develop and strengthen the Paramedic profession; lobbying members of parliament, campaigning for higher standards of education and focusing on the development of the highest standards of clinical care.

What's in it for me?

Yes! We have offers. Yes! You get discounts. Yes! Occasionally we give away prizes. You'll get all of that but the most important thing is you get a voice. You're training to be a professional, so regardless of where you train, where you work, or who you work for, you need a voice to speak on the issues that matter to you as a professional! The College of Paramedics does exactly that!

OK! OK! So how do I get involved?

Simple! Join today...the College can be your professional voice! We still need Student Champions at some universities so email us for an application form and poster pack and really become involved with your chosen profession!
